when Pennsylvania decided not to take a chance to carry the ball with it practically on her goal line, and Hollenback, was sent far back of the goal posts to kick out. He was directly behind the crossbar and in order to avoid it he kicked to one side. The punt was bad and, aided by the stiff wind which was blowing diagonally across the field in the faces of the Pennsylvania players, the ball went out of bounds about two yards from the goal line.

of the Pennsylvania players, the ball went out of bounds about two yards from the goal line.

With the ball in her possession two yards from Pennsylvania's goal line victory looked certain this time for Cornell. The Ithacans made a yard on the first play, and the second plunge into the Pennsylvania line failed to gain. The ball was then on the Quakers' one-yard line. Cornell had one more try remaining and only a few seconds left in which to do it. Gardiner here was sent in to take Jamison's place at quarterback for Cornell. Pennsylvania was in the last ditch and desperate. As the Cornell men got into position the Pennsylvan ans crouched low and there was a deathlike slience in the stands. The signal was given, the teams crushed against one another and half of Cornell's players on top of the struggling mass of men spilled over Pennsylvania's goal line. As the teams played into each other the timekeeper's whiste announced the end of the game. Everyone believed Cornel had won, but when Referee Crobin and Umpfre Edwards had finally separated the struggling players and got to the bottom of the Pie, they found a Cornell man hugging the ball a foot short of the line of victory.

Cornell's spirit fell, and the enthusiasm of the Pennsylvania spectaiors knew no bounds.

Outside of the desperate finish the game did not afford either side much conserting.

of the Pennsylvania spectators knew no bounds.

Outside of the desperate finish the game did not afford either side much opportunity for cheering. In the first half Pennsylvania got the ball to Cornell's fo-yard line, where she lost it on a fumble, and the Ithacans once had it twenty yards from Pennsylvania's goal, but also lost the ball on a similar misplay. In the first half Pennsylvania gained almost twice s much ground as her opponents, but in the second half the playing was entirely in Pennsylvania's territory. This was due principally to Walder's good kicking, who took every advantage of the stiff wind at his back. Cornell's ability to rush the ball increased wonderfully in the second half the rushes invariably gained her substantial ground, until the exciting finish.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—The footbal game here today between the Massilion, Obio, Tigers and the All-Western eleven was won by the former by a score of 9 to 4. Both teams were made up of former college stars, the Massilion eleven being much the heavier. The game, especially in the second half, was roughly played, Heston, formerly of Michigan, sustaining a fracture of one of the small bones of the right ankle, and Reseth, formerly of Wisconsin receiving a dislocation of the right shoulder.

In the first half the scoring of the Massilion team was made by Davidson, who secred a drop kick from the 29-yard line. In the second hhalf, Hate of the All-Western eleven made a drop kick from the 35-yard line, and for Massilion, Harrott made a touchdown.

The game was poorly attended. The lineup was as follows:

He turned and walked to his own corner. After Referee Sheehan had declared Mellody the winner, Walcott gave the explanation that in the ninth round his left arm had become disabled.
